The PENNSYLVANIA

G A Z E T T E.

Containing the Freshest Advices, Foreign and Domestic.

C O R R E, December 6.

THE ardour of the Corsicans for the defence of their liberty encreases daily, which is not a little encouraged by the active genius of Paoli, and the succours which they receive from all parts. We have had so much snow lately in the province of Cape Corfe, that the French have been obliged to retire from several places, and have hardly left 100 men in that province.

Warsaw, Jan. 11. We are informed from Turkey, that the Chan of the Tartars is to march with his troops towards the Boristhenes, which separates Russia from Tartary. The troops which the Grand Vizir is to command, assemble near Varna, Gallipoli, and Radoffo.

As to the interior part of Poland, every thing is quiet; there have been no new confederacies since the destruction of that of Prince Sulkowski in Great Poland. The Confederates of Bar remain still in the Ottoman territories in the same situation as before; but one of their parties, formerly commanded by the Sieur Pulawski, is at Zwaniec, and will not re-enter Turkey.

Rome, Dec. 31. We are under apprehensions of a new disagreement, as the Neapolitan troops are reinforced at Orbitello; and ships with troops are expected from Spain, with a view of making an invasion in the Duchies of Castro and Ronciglione.

Constantinople, Dec. 8. The Captain Pacha, or Grand Admiral, entered this port the 25th of last month, with his squadron, consisting of four men of war of the line, and five gallees. The Grand Signor immediately invested him with a fur of great value, and confirmed him in his employ.

On the 27th ult. the Chevalier de St. Priest, the new Ambassador from France, had an audience of the Grand Vizir, and was admitted the day before yesterday to that of the Sultan, to whom he presented his credential letters. The presents which he was ordered to make are extremely sumptuous, and valued at fifty thousand crowns.

L O N D O N.

Jan. 14. A letter from the frontiers of Poland says, "Several Grandees of Moldavia and Walachia have already experienced the fatal consequences of the changes that have happened in the Ottoman Ministry; for several of them, on losing their Protector at Constantinople, have since lost their heads; and others have been conducted to the capital of the Ottoman Empire, uncertain whether they shall meet with a better fate. The only one that is sure of avoiding such treatment, is M. de la Roche, formerly Resident from Moldavia at Warsaw, who, foreseeing the storm, retired into a foreign country."

Some Politicians, who are in the Cabinet of our good friends on the other side of the water, have declared, that they have but two things to fear at present from England; First, that some immense revenues in a distant part of the world should be soon appropriated to the exigencies of state; and that a certain great man, of known abilities and integrity, should take the lead in A-----.

Jan. 17. Some dispatches, said to be received on Wednesday night at the Russian Ambassador's, bring an account of the Russians having intercepted a large body of Tartars, with the great Chan's son at their head, and totally defeated them.

It is said that several councils have been lately held, relative to some important news from the Court of Petersburg, in regard to the hostile proceedings of the Ottoman Porte against that Court, which it seems now requires our assistance to support her against so potent an adversary.

We hear that Mr. Wilkes has lately received a polite letter, accompanied with a considerable present, from a Scots Gentleman, of very distinguished abilities.

In the Brussels Gazette of Jan. 9, which arrived this day, is the following article: "London, Dec. 30. It is said that endeavours are using to accommodate the differences between the Ministry and Mr. Wilkes, and to put an end to a contest which too much engages the application of government at this present conjuncture, when the affairs of Europe in general, and that of this kingdom, and its Colonies, in particular, are of such a nature as to engage their utmost attention."

The Person principally employed to hire a mob on a certain occasion, has, we are told, disappeared some time.

Jan. 19. Among the number of grand dresses which appeared at Court yesterday, those of the Duchesses of Ancaster, Beaufort, and Buccleugh, and that of the Countess of Waldegrave, were the most rich and elegant, and all of English manufacture.

The last letters from Altena are filled with accounts of the great rejoicings made there on the 4th inst. occasioned by his Danish Majesty's arrival in his own dominions. All the houses were illuminated, and a grand emblematical firework, inscribed Optimo Regi, was played off, which was followed by a grand masquerade ball.

It is said, that by the death of the late Mrs. Mead, a fortune of near 100,000l. devolves to the wife and daughter of John Wilkes, Esq;

The last letters from Warsaw say, "All the advices we receive from the frontiers next to Turkey agree, that there are no Tartars on this side the Niester, that the Confederates of Bar who are returned into Podolia, are not more than 500 in number, and that they commit no excesses."

The Steward of one great man, and Agent of another, have both disappeared, on account of orders being given for taking them into custody, for having hired some of the fellows concerned in the Brentford riot.

Jan. 21. The first time the King of Sweden repaired to the Senate, after his late abdication, he caused the following dictamen to be read there:

"I appear again in this place, penetrated with the most lively acknowledgment at its having pleased the Divine Providence, who directs all things, that I should resume the government of my kingdom, and with the more satisfaction, as the convocation of the States gives me hopes of being able to relieve our faithful subjects from their misery. I will not undertake to answer what the Senators have alleged against my resolution, since it is all buried in oblivion by the convocation of the States. I shall demonstrate to the States the utility and the necessity of my resolution, for the maintenance of the liberty and justice of the nation. My conscience does not in the least reproach me in all this; what has lately happened perhaps will be alone sufficient to evince the justice of my designs. I am, moreover, fully persuaded, that all that I have done will be approved, not only at present, but in future. (Signed) ADOLPHUS FREDERICK."

Letters from Leghorn say, that in the late action between the French and Corsicans, at the surprize of Oletta, the former had 800 men killed or wounded, besides 150 made prisoners, among whom are two staff-officers. The attack lasted for four hours, with a very brisk fire on both sides.

The same letters add, that a detachment of French Dragoons had fallen into an ambuscade, and been entirely dispersed by the Corsicans.

A certain witty Earl, the other day, when he congratulated a certain Bishop on his advancement to a better See, said, "My Lord, you are the only authors who do not suffer by a translation."

The following expression caused a laugh, among those who heard it last Monday, when Mr. Serjeant Glyn fell as he was going into the House of Lords: Ha! ha! said a person, it is all over with poor Wilkes, for you see his Counsel is down already.

It is assured that Mr. Serjeant Glyn, the present truly worthy Representative of Middlesex, having in part fulfilled his promise to the public, of "bringing the charge down to the hirers and hired," is now furnished with sufficient materials to fulfil his promise with respect to the former; in consequence of which he is determined, that, notwithstanding their greatness, they shall not break the laws with impunity, no more than the unfortunate hirelings, which they employed and seduced to break the most sacred laws of the community.

The application made by Captain Allen, in favour of one of the murderers lately convicted at the Old Bailey, concluded with these remarkable words, "As far as is consistent with the public Justice of this kingdom."

Yesterday was held a meeting of the East-India Company, to consider further of propositions to be offered to government for an agreement with regard to the territorial revenues of Bengal, when the Directors produced a new scheme of accommodation, in which all the articles of the former, which had given so much disgust to the proprietors, were left out, and the matter now solely confined to the mutual share to be allotted to the public and the company, which was now fixed at 400,000l. for each, and the first payment of the increased dividend of one per cent. declared precisely to commence at Midsummer next. These propositions seemed on the main so equitable, and so suitable to what can reasonably be expected government will agree to, that the Proprietors concurred with the Directors without a division; but it was thought necessary, for form sake, to demand a ballot (which is to be taken on Monday) because the question regarded a grant of money.

The Friends of the Colonies and Nation in general, are pleased with hearing that affairs are likely to terminate in a happy issue, to the satisfaction and mutual interest of Great-Britain, and trade in general.

Extract of a Letter from Paris, January 11.

"Since the return of the Marquis de Chauvigny hither from Corsica, he has had frequent conferences with his Majesty; since which it has been reported, that the conquest of that Island is thought to be a very doubtful matter, notwithstanding the great number of troops we shall be enabled to send, on account of the situation of the country, where large bodies cannot act to advantage, the climate, and the bravery of the Islanders. In short, it is whispered that the Court repents the having made any attempt, and yet they are now ashamed to recede."

An Irish Gentleman, who was present at the Old Bailey when some persons were so brutally as to clap and hollow when the unhappy rioters were brought in guilty death, says, that he asked a friend who stood next him what was his opinion of such behaviour, who answered him extempore thus:

"What excuse can be made for behaviour so bad?
"The only excuse is, John Bull is HORNE MAD."

Jan. 24. The following French troops, 37 battalions, and 24 squadrons of horse, 10 companies of artillery, with 64 pieces of brass cannon, are to embark from France the first week in March, for Genoa, where 6 battalions are to remain in garrison; 2 battalions at the fort of Cavi, and the remainder to encamp in the month of May on the frontiers of the Genoese territory, not far from Alexandria.

The subscription now on foot for the support of the Corsicans, against the enemy of their liberties, it is said, already amounts to upwards of 7000 l.

The French King has raised twenty millions of livres, at ten per cent. This would seem as if that kingdom was little able to begin hostilities with any power, particularly Great-Britain.

We hear that the celebrated Baron Dimdale is gone from Peterburgh to Moscow, to inoculate the Archbishop of Moscow, and all his family; and that his return to England is not expected till the end of March.

It is said, that besides the emoluments conferred on the Baron by the Empress of Russia, he has been complimented with presents by the Nobility of that empire, to the amount of thirty thousand pounds and upwards.

A certain Gentleman has lately received two very extraordinary Letters from Persons, struck with remorse for some past transactions relative to his affairs, written by a very extraordinary Person.

A private interview with a certain Gentleman, it is reported, was solicited by an eminent -----, but declined with a polite compliment, that a friendly visit would be deemed a favour. Instead of which, some persons were sent, and terms proposed, which being refused, some threats were used. The answer to which was, "I am neither to be intimidated nor threatened; but if repentment is shown, let others dread the consequences, for I shall make known such truths as will terrify them."

Extract of a Letter from Portsmouth, Jan. 22.

"We hear that orders have been sent to the gun wharf here, to get ready with speed the carriages for the great guns of 30 fall of the line of battle ships; and we also hear, that the like orders have been sent to Plymouth and Chatham."

Letters from Genoa mention, that there are now five large men of war upon the stocks there, building in great forwardness for the French service.

They write from Leghorn, that a Dutch man of war of 20 guns, lately landed in Corsica, full twenty chests of small arms, several barrels of gunpowder, and a large sum of money, for the use of General Paoli.

An order is sent to the Carron Water Manufactory in Scotland, for a large number of ship cannon, field pieces, mortars, &c. to be got ready as soon as possible.

It is said, that a certain Gentleman intends, as soon as it shall be in his power (which from a late event, and other expectations, is thought not to be at a great distance) to follow the example of a very worthy City Officer, by paying all his creditors their full debts, with interest.

A Gentleman having observed, that though there has been much talk of the superb carriage lately finished, and designed as a present to Mr. Wilkes, he had heard no mention made of any horses being to be given with it. To which it was replied by one present, that horses were quite needless, for that the populace will not suffer their favourite to be drawn by any animals but themselves.

Jan. 26. Yesterday Lord Viscount Lisburn was sworn in one of the Lords Commissioners of Trade and Plantations, and took his seat at the Board.

It is said the late Speaker often declared, that had he been in the Chair when Mr. Wilkes was sent to the Tower, he would have gone to the Tower Gates, and with his Mace on his shoulder, have demanded the body of the prisoner; for that the Revolution is a standing proof, how valuable the vote of one Member is, when all the blessings of Liberty turned on so small a circumstance as a single voice.

Yesterday at a General Court of Proprietors of the East-India Company at Merchant Taylors-hall, the Chairman read to the Proprietors the written message which the Directors had received from the Lords of the Treasury, in consequence of their having transmitted to that Board the propositions ballotted for on Monday last: The minute of the Treasury is nearly in the following words:

"My Lords can see no reason to alter their former opinion, with regard to the propositions that were communicated to them from the Court of Directors; therefore however willing they might have been to have concurred with the company in any reasonable qualification of any of the articles, which are mentioned in the minutes of the Board of the 15th day of December last, as proper to be made part of such agreement, in which light they consider the proposition, that whenever the Company's dividends shall be reduced to six per cent. the payment to the public shall be discontinued; yet they cannot give the Court of Directors any encouragement to expect, that this Board will think themselves at liberty to recommend it to Parliament to accept of any such proposal, as shall leave any of those articles wholly unprovided for."

A letter from Venice, dated Jan. 4, says, "The subjects of Russia, settled in the States of the Grand Signor, are retiring with their effects into countries the nearest to their late residence, for fear of sharing the fate of the Sieur Obrefkow, the Resident Minister from the Court of Petersburg at Constantinople."

They write from Genoa, that the French General in Corsica has published an amnesty for all such deserters of that nation as shall join their corps by the 25th of March next.

Jan. 28. The substance of the King of Sweden's letters patent for conveying the States of that kingdom, is as follows. His Majesty acquaints them, "That though he earnestly wished to have been able to wait for the calling them together till the time they had fixed for it in the last Assembly, yet, as several great difficulties and important circumstances had happened, which required their advice and assistance, he was obliged to shorten the time they had fixed for their meeting; and that therefore, by these presents, he required his faithful subjects to assemble in General Diet on the 19th of April next, in the city of Norwiking, there to deliberate on the affairs that should be proposed to them."

It is said that the instructions agreed upon on Thursday, to be given to the Representatives of the city of Westminster, are to be carried round to every Housekeeper there, for their approbation; which is to be expressed by the signing their names to the instructions.

A person is at this time employed to find out such of the creditors of John Wilkes, as are in low circumstances, to whom he pays 20 s. in the pound, with legal interest, since the debts became due respectively.

A great personage remarked, upon hearing that an elegant state carriage was now building, intended for a present to Mr. Wilkes, that it was like giving a man a pair of boots to wear after his legs were cut off.

We hear that a celebrated speech, made a few days since, was so extremely pathetic, as to draw tears from several of the hearers.

By accounts from Wales we are informed of a dreadful inundation of the river Ufki, the beginning of last week; by which vast numbers of cattle of all kinds, flocks of day, and ricks of corn, were washed away; the waters were up to the first stories of the houses. At New-Castle, in Cardiganshire, the bridge and 3 or 4 houses were destroyed.

It is said a Lady is just arrived in England from France, where she was carried by her husband, a man of considerable fortune, 13 years ago, and by him confined in a convent, where she was used with great severity, but from whence she has lately found means to make her escape, and intends to apply for justice on her husband, who has been married to another wife these 8 years.

They write from Vienna, of January 7, that orders had just been issued for a very considerable body of Austrian troops to be ready to take the field by the middle of March next, though it was given out those troops are only intended to form two armies of observation.

Letters from Poland of January 9, advise, that the Russians will begin the campaign immediately, with a view as well to prevent the Turks from assembling their forces, as to fix the seat of war in the Turkish dominions.

Yesterday immediately after John Wilkes, Esq; was re-chosen Alderman of Farringdon Ward Without, a great number of the Gentlemen of the Lumber Troop, of which he is a Member, repaired to their Suttling-House, where they drank health, prosperity, and liberty to Mr. Wilkes, under a discharge of 45 pieces of cannon, which were fired off before the door of the house.

We are told that this morning several persons of rank visited Mr. Wilkes, at his apartments in the King's Bench, and were in private conversation with him a considerable time.

Jan. 31. We are informed that the names of some American gentlemen will be sent for by proper authority, and it is thought their persons will soon follow.

A Gentlewoman big with child attended at the lobby of the House of Commons, and requested to have a fight of Mr. Wilkes, which being granted, the informed him, that she came post from Bristol purposely to see him, thinking that the safety of her delivery depended on it. Mr. Wilkes complacently saluted her; on which the gratefully confessed her satisfaction, and immediately set out for Bristol.

It is said, That by a clause in a late will, no part whatever of the deceased's effects can in any wise, either now or hereafter, devolve to a certain popular Gentleman.

We hear a Gentleman of the County of Norfolk has lately presented a Plan for finding out the Longitude, far exceeding any thing that has hitherto been offered on the subject.

Sunday the wife of a mate of a West Indianman at Wapping, christened her child, according to the directions of her Husband, who is now at Jamaica, John-Wilkes-Glynn-Horne.

A letter from Constantinople, dated Dec. 17, says, "M. Obrefkow is now allowed to pay visits to his friends, being attended by the Marshal, and we doubt not but in a short time Mr. Murray, the English Resident, will obtain his entire discharge."

We are informed, that six schemes have been laid before the Ministry for the further reduction of the national debt; one of which is by way of lottery, of a more extensive nature than any of the past lotteries, and it is said will be carried into execution.

It is said, that a young Lady, possessed of every external beauty, and of a mind also stored with every internal embellishment, gave the following remarkable instance of her filial affection. Upon her being informed a large fortune, the bequest of a near relation, would come to her on attaining the age of twenty-one, she exclaimed, "Would to God the period was now arrived, that I might be able to assist my injured father."

We are informed that a certain popular Gentleman, while he was waiting in the apartment he was lodged in last Friday, sent for the Opera of the Padlock for his amusement, which gave room to a wag to say, "that he thought he had been already sufficiently padlocked."

The Hague Gazette of Jan. 20, under the head London, Jan. 13, has the following article: "The Count de Czernichew, Ambassador from the Court of Petersburg, hath from time to time, conferences with the King's ministers, which we have reason to believe are relative to the approaching war between Russia and the Porte. We cannot say with certainty, whether, or in what manner, Great Britain will furnish succours to the former of those powers."

They write from Leghorn, that three of Paoli's Corsairs had fallen in with a new thirty-six gun frigate built at Genoa, on her passage to Toulon, manned by Genoese sailors, which the Corsicans made prize of, and had carried her safe into port.

According to letters from Cadiz, advice has been received there of great damage having been done at Campeachy, Porto Bello, and some hundred leagues along the Spanish Main, by a violent hurricane, which lasted three days.

Yesterday morning the Rev. Mr. WHITEFIELD preached to a large Auditory at Mercers Chapel in Cheapside, from these words of the second lesson, "His blood be upon Us, and upon Our Children," and took occasion from them to observe, that the only effectual way to put a stop to present, to prevent future evils, and to draw down blessings on the rising generation, was for persons of all ranks and denominations to seek after a saving interest in the REDEEMER'S blood, and get an experimental acquaintance with the power of true and undefiled religion.

From the SOUTH-CAROLINA GAZETTE of March 7. An Extract from the St. James's Chronicle, of Saturday, December 10, 1768.

S I R,
St. James's, April 17, 1768.
H A V I N G already signified the King's pleasure to the Lord Lieutenant of the county in which you reside, with regard to the measures to be taken in general for preserving the peace at a time that so very riotous a disposition has discovered itself among the common people, I make no doubt but either some steps have, or will immediately be taken by him on that head; and I take it for granted, that as chairman of the sessions you will meet the gentlemen, who act in the commission of the peace for the Borough of Southwark, and East-Hundred of Brixton, to consult together, and fix upon some plan for securing the public tranquillity against any mischiefs which may happen, should the same indecent spirit of tumult and disorder, which has appeared in the City and Liberties of Westminster, spread itself to those parts, which are within the line of your duty; and though I am persuaded it is unnecessary to suggest to you, or the gentlemen who will meet you, any part of your duty upon such an occasion, yet after the recent alarming instances of riot and confusion, I can't help apprizing you, that much will depend upon the preventive measures which you shall, in conjunction with the other gentlemen in the commission of the peace, take, upon your meeting, and much is expected from the vigilance and activity with which such measures will be carried into execution. When I inform you, that every possible precaution is taken to support the dignity of your office; that upon application from the civil magistrate at the Tower, the Savoy, or the War-Office, he will find a military force ready to march to his assistance, and to act according as he shall find it expedient and necessary; I need not add, that if the public peace is not preserved, and if any riotous proceedings, which may happen, are not suppressed, the blame will, most probably, be imputed to a want of prudent and spirited conduct in the civil magistrate. As I have no reason to doubt your caution and discretion in not calling for troops till they are wanted; so, on the other hand, I hope you will not delay a moment calling for their aid, and making use of them effectually where there is occasion; that occasion always presents itself, when the civil power is trifled with and insulted; nor can a military force ever be employed to a more constitutional purpose, than in the support of the authority and dignity of magistracy.

I am, &c.
P. S. I have, for the greater caution, sent copies of this letter to the members for the Borough, and Mr. Pownall. If you have received no directions from Lord Onslow for a meeting, you will consider this as sufficient authority for that purpose.

Daniel Ponton, Esq; Chairman of the Quarter-Sessions, at Lambeth.
To the Gentlemen, Clergy, and Freeholders of the County of Middlesex.

GENTLEMEN,
H O L D myself accountable to you for every action of my life, which respects the public. I desire to stand or fall by your free and unbiased judgment. I wish to be directed by your council and instruction in all matters of importance. It is my great ambition to show myself not quite unworthy of the choice you have made of me as your representative, nor of being the colleague of the worthy patriot Mr. GLYNN, whom I thank you for having joined with me in this sacred trust.

I take the earliest opportunity, gentlemen, of stating to you the following particulars. I caused to be printed and published in the St. James's Chronicle of December the 10th, a letter of the Secretary of State, written from St. James's on the 17th of April, to Mr. Justice Ponton, with some prefatory remarks. I avow the publication of both, I will go further, and declare that I first, several months ago, transmitted to the press the letter of the Secretary at War, dated May the 11th, returning thanks in the King's name, to the officers and soldiers of the third regiment of Guards, for the rank and foul misdeeds committed in these fields on the 10th of that month. My hand trembled, while I copied what I blushed to read, and I gave it to the public in the only way my present situation could admit, with the hope of promoting a parliamentary enquiry into that bloody transaction, which I trust this second publication will now accomplish, and because I think this free nation has a right to be fully informed of the conduct of administration in so important a concern, as the loss of the lives of many subjects.

Administration complains of me for having published the letter of the Secretary of State. I complain to the nation that such a letter has been written. This is not a letter on any personal business or pleasure. I would have scorned to have published any such. This letter was from a Secretary of State to the Chairman of the Quarter Sessions at Lambeth, and is written in characters of blood. It affects deeply the constitution of this country, and every man in our island. I will at present leave it to the honest indignation of every Englishman. I shall now only add, that if I have not given to the public a most accurate and faithful copy, I ask pardon of the Secretary of State. If I have, then I will say, that for the innocent blood of our countrymen, spilt in consequence of that letter, the writer ought to ask forgiveness of God and his country, and pass the remainder of his life in penitence and tears.

I am, with great deference and esteem,
GENTLEMEN,
Your faithful and obedient
Humble Servant,
JOHN WILKES.

King's Bench Prison,
Saturday, Dec. 17, 1768.
B O S T O N, March 27.
In our last were published a Number of RESOLVES of the Right Honourable the House of Lords, relative to American Affairs:—The following, we hear, were also proposed at the same Time, but not then agreed to by the House, viz.

R E S O L V E D, That it appears that the Council for said Province of Massachusetts-Bay not only refused to give their Assistance to his Majesty's Governor for suppressing the Riots and Tumults, and for supporting the Civil Power in the Execution of the Law, although repeatedly called upon so to do, but did, at a Time when the Town was in such a State of Disobedience to lawful Authority, and when the Officers of the Revenue were compelled to seek Shelter from the Fury of the People on board one of his Majesty's Ships of War, concur and join with the House of Representatives in a Resolution to enquire into the Grounds and Reasons of the People's Apprehensions that Measures had been taken, or were taking, for the Execution of the late Revenue Acts of Parliament by a Naval or Military Force.

Resolved, That it appears that the said Council for the Province of the Massachusetts-Bay did, at a Time when it was evident that the Commissioners of his Majesty's Customs could not safely resume their Functions in the Town of Boston, not only decline to propose to advise any Measures for giving them such Protection, but did on the contrary advise the Governor not to accept an offer from General Gage to send Troops, and did declare, that if any Person had made Application for Troops to come thither, they deemed them in the highest Degree unfriendly to the Peace and good Order of that Government, as well as to his Majesty's service, and the British Interest in America.

A Letter from Mr. D----- mentions, that Colonel Dalrymple had wrote to the Ministry, much in favour of this Province.

The Prosecutions, which have been for some Time carried on, in the Court of Admiralty here, against John Hancock, Esq; Captain Malcolm, and some other Gentlemen of this Town, we hear, were last Week dropped by the Council for the Crown.

Friday last arrived here from England, Captain Lindsey, in the Halifax Packet armed Schooner, with Dispatches for the Governor, Commodore Hood, General Gage, General Mackay, and the Hon. the Commissioners of the Customs.

N E W - Y O R K, April 3.
It is said that Captain Williams, who left this City last Summer with Captain Wynne, has been offered the Place of Lieutenant-Governor of this Province.

Letters from Detroit of the 24th of February, say, "The Indians are seemingly discontented, and intend doing mischief, but I am far from thinking it will be so general and severe as in the Year 1763."

This Day the Harriot Packet, Captain Lee, sails with the Mail for Falmouth.

P H I L A D E L P H I A, April 6.

Extract of a Letter from London, December 30, 1768.

"As to Politics; Things are at present in such an unsettled Way, that there is no forming any true Judgment in whose Hands the Administration of our Affairs shall be, even for the ensuing Week. There seems, indeed, to be neither Spirit nor Concert in the M-----y, but every Member of it throws out what occurs to himself, without adopting any Plan of Conduct, appearing only concerned each for himself, lest his own Popularity should suffer by the Part he should take in this ridiculous Squabble. I will not name any of the Leaders in the Administration that behave in this Manner, because they appear to me to be all alike culpable in this Respect. Their only Excuse is, the precarious Tenor upon which each holds his Station, founded upon the repeated Changes which have taken Place during the present Reign, and a strong Suspicion, that the same secret Influence, which is supposed to have occasioned these, still prevails. Whether this is really the Case or not, I will not pretend to say; tho' I am rather inclined to think, there is some Cause to apprehend it as they suspect. But however this may be, I cannot think that Things will remain long in the present Posture. Fresh Changes begin again to be talked of; and as Lord C-----m, from Motives best known to himself, hath not only resigned his Place of Privy Seal, but is now openly reconciled to his Brothers Lord T-----e and G-----e G-----le, a Coalition may possibly be formed between them and the R-----m Party, and they may be joined, perhaps, by the Duke of B-----d and his Friends; and in that Case they must carry all before them, and form a Ministry, which being superior to any Influence whatever, either open or secret, may have some Chance for Permanency. It is, in Truth, a melancholy Consideration, that after having tried almost every Man in the Kingdom, who is a Candidate for public Employment, there should not be found one fit to take the Lead, or that can procure the full and absolute Direction of Affairs, as has been usual in former Reigns. The Duke of G-----n, I have some Reason to think, has been long tired of his present Station. If C-----m comes in again, it must be as before, on his own Terms; and I must own, he appears to be the only Man to whom the rest can be brought to submit, and who can restore that Vigour to Administration, so necessary on all Occasions, but more particularly at present; the Want of which hath well nigh ruined our Affairs. Till some Alteration takes Place, nothing can be settled, I am afraid, with respect to your American Affairs, which lie over at present in a very disagreeable Situation. I cannot, indeed, conceive why the Matter is not taken up in some Shape or other, unless it be that they wait for the expected Changes, and are desirous that the Oidium attending the Enquiry, may devolve to their Successors."

"Nothing is yet settled with the East-India Company. The Administration and the Directors have been haggling together all this while. It is said (but I will not vouch for the Truth of the Assertion) that they are to pay the Government £ 500,000 a Year, and to be allowed to increase their Dividends by Degrees to 12 and a Half per Cent. I can hardly think they are in Circumstances to do this. Affairs in India are far from being in a settled State. The Expence of their Army there, which, including the Troops composed of the Natives, amount to 78,000 Men, is enormous; and the Difficulties attending the Investment of their Revenues, insurmountable. If you add to all this, the Differences among the Proprietors at Home, with regard to the general Management, and the Choice of Directors, and the universal Rapacity of all their Servants Abroad, who now find Means to acquire independent Fortunes after two or three Years Service, by Means far from justifiable, and which probably tend to render the English Name odious with the Natives of that Country, you will not think that much Account can be made of our Possession of that distant Territory, to which we have, in Reality, to say no worse of it, so slender a Claim."

Extract of another Letter from London, Jan. 19, 1769.
"Mr. Dickinson's Farmer's Letters, have carried his Name and Reputation all over the British Dominions; I was a few Days ago in a large Company of Patriots and Advocates of Liberty, where I heard a thousand fine Encomiums passed upon them. It is a general Remark here, that all the State Papers, such as Addresses, Petitions, &c. which come from America, are wrote in a Style not to be equalled in any Part of the British Dominions. There is a plain Reason for it; Men will always write well upon Subjects they feel thoroughly."

Extract of a third Letter from the same Place, Jan. 24, 1769.
"I am sorry to say the Temper of Parliament does not at present appear favourable to your Cause, but without Doors you gain Ground daily, and you know, I suppose, that Parliaments have often changed their Sentiments in less Time than a Session; I wish they may for the better this. Some of the principal Declaimers against you are, Lord H-----, Lord N-----, Lord C-----, Hans St-----, Richard R-----, George G-----, Esq; &c. Men not wanting in Self-confidence, but quite devoid of the very Shadow of Confidence from the People. I cannot think it possible for the present Set of Men, called the Administration, to stand out the Campaign; I am confident they cannot, except George G----- and his Party come in to their Assistance; in short, for their own Honour, and for the Safety of the Crown, this Kingdom, and her Plantations, I most heartily wish they would follow the Example of the poor unfortunate Protector, Richard Cromwell, retire into some obscure Corner of this World, to repent and prepare for another--for they certainly will gain no Credit by an active Life in the Politics of a free and brave People," &c.

Extract of a fourth Letter from London, January 28, 1769.
"On Monday, the 16th, the Appeal of Mr. Wilkes to the House of Lords, against the two Sentences of the Court of King's Bench, was heard at their Bar, when the Sentences were unanimously confirmed. Lord Chief Justice Wilmot, in a very good Speech, delivered his own and the other Judges Opinions, which was very clear and satisfactory."

"The House of Commons fall Thursday (the 26th) and till Three o'Clock the next Morning, upon North-American Affairs, when they agreed to the Resolutions of the Lords, supporting the Legislative Authority of Parliament over the Colonies, &c. with very little Variation, so that Affairs are not yet in a conciliating Train."

"The great Douglas's Cause is now hearing, from Day to Day, in the House of Lords, and will be finally determined in about a fortnight."

Captain Friend, from London, on the 20th of March, in Lat. 34. Long. 62, spoke the Schooner Harmony, Captain Smith, from New-York for Barbados, ten Days out, all well.

Captain Budden, on the 11th ult. in Lat. 29: 12, spoke a Sloop, Captain Braddock, from New-London for the Grenades, out 17 Days; on the 25th, in Lat. 33: 25, spoke a Schooner, Captain Williams, from South-Carolina for Barbados, out 5 Days; who, in Long. 75, had met with a very hard Gale of Wind, in which he lost all his Stock, and Lumber off his Deck; and on the 29th, off Chincoteague, he spoke a Schooner, Captain Alexander, from this Port for North-Carolina, all well.

Captain Sims, from Turks-Island, left at that Place, on the 8th ult. a Brig, Captain Denwood, belonging to Patowmack; and the Brig Polly, Captain Scott, of Boston, who was near loaded.

Captain Lavigne, from Hispaniola, on the 28th ult. in Lat. 33: 44, Long. 71, spoke a Brig from St. Martins for New-London. Captain Spier is arrived at Glasgow, from this Place.
